WELCOME MESSAGE

Esteemed Seniors, Valued Colleagues, and Budding Anaesthesiologists,

Warm greetings from the Organizing Committee of ICITAAC 2024 and CZISACON 2024!

We are delighted to invite you to the 1st International Conference on Innovation and Technology in Anaesthesiology and Critical Care, in conjunction with the 15th Annual Conference of the Central Zone, Indian Society of Anaesthesiologists and the 46th UP State Conference. This prestigious event will take place in the culturally rich town of Orchha, from the 25th to 27th October 2024, at the Orchha Palace and Convention Centre.

Orchha is a beacon of culture, heritage, and spirituality, making it the perfect backdrop for our pioneering initiatives. This year, we are excited to introduce the first-ever medical hackathon within a conference of this scale, designed to propel medical innovations into viable healthcare solutions.

In a landmark effort to bridge research and clinical practice, ICITAAC 2024 will also host an academic channel, offering selected full-length papers the prestigious opportunity to be published in a PubMed-indexed international journal. This initiative is not only a step forward in academic excellence but also a reflection of our commitment to the 'Make in India' initiative by fostering local innovations that have global implications.

Additionally, we are introducing a special session on entrepreneurship for Private Practitioners. This session is designed to encourage medical professionals to explore and establish entrepreneurial ventures, further supporting the 'Make in India' initiative and transforming innovations into sustainable business opportunities.

We encourage all participants, especially our PG students, to engage actively in various competitive events like paper presentations, poster sessions, and quizzes. This conference offers seven distinct awards exclusively for PG students, acknowledging their contributions and excellence in various fields of anaesthesiology and critical care.

Esteemed seniors and colleagues, your mentorship and guidance are invaluable in nurturing the next generation of anaesthesiologists. Through your participation, we aim to enrich this conference and set new benchmarks in medical education and practice.

Join us in Orchha to partake in what promises to be a transformative event. Together, we will shape the future of anaesthesiology and critical care, turning innovative ideas into actionable medical practices that benefit communities worldwide.

With warmest regards,
Organising Team

ACADEMIC CHANNEL

The Organizing Committee is proud to introduce a pioneering initiative in the field of anesthesiology and critical care. We have established the first conference platform in India that allows participants to publish full-length research papers in a PubMed-indexed journal. This significant collaboration with Cureus, part of the Springer Nature group, underscores our commitment to academic excellence and the advancement of clinical practice and research.

Five full-length articles will be published in Cureus, a PubMed-indexed journal. Articles will be selected through our abstract submission platform only.
